A history of St. Marys

The Town of St. Marys acknowledges that it is located on the traditional territory of the Haudenosaunee, Anishinaabe, and Ojibway/Chippewa peoples. This area is within the boundaries covered by Treaty 29, known as the Huron Tract Purchase, and is protected by the Dish With One Spoon wampum agreement. Today, many Indigenous peoples continue to call this land home and act as its stewards, and we are grateful to have the opportunity to live and work on this territory.

The first European settlers arrived in St. Marys in the early 1840s, attracted by the area's natural resources. At the new town site, the Thames River cascaded over a series of limestone ledges, providing the power to run the first pioneer mills.

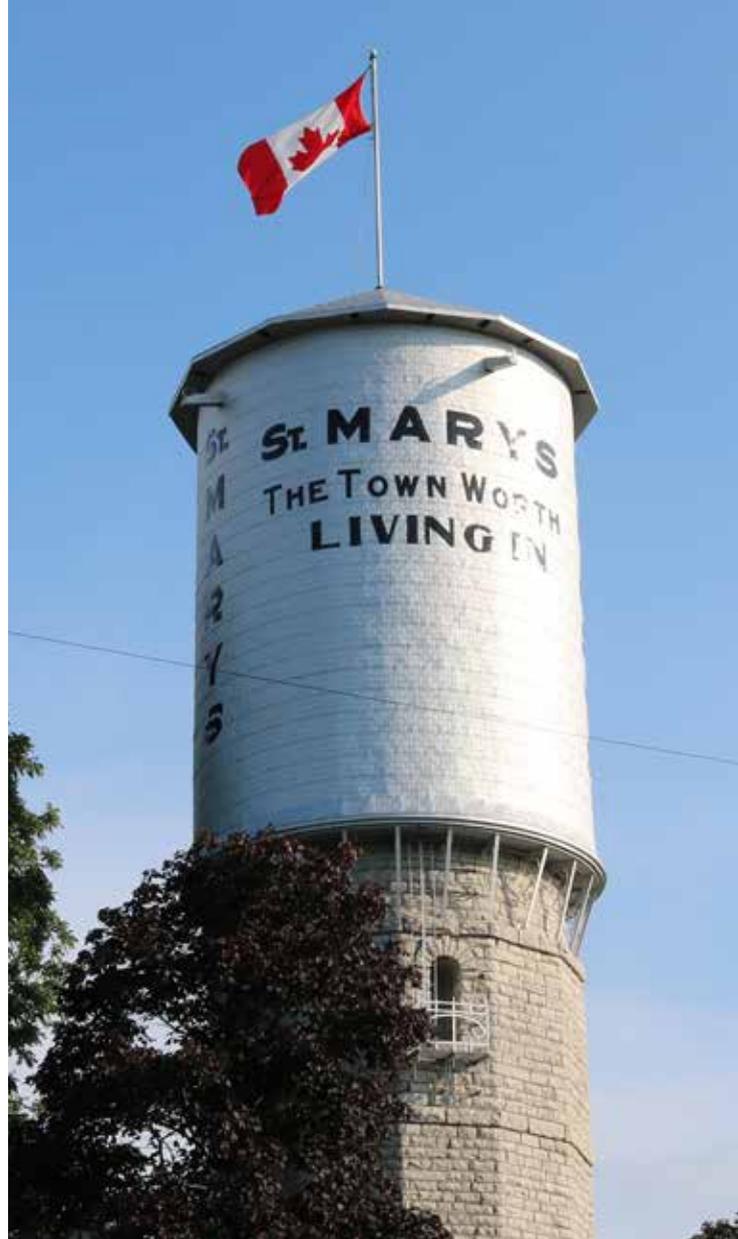

In the riverbed and along the banks, limestone was close to the surface and could be quarried for building materials. Many 19th century limestone structures survive: churches, commercial blocks, and private homes. They have given St. Marys its current nickname: Stonetown.

The coming of the Grand Trunk Railway in the late 1850s spurred growth and soon St. Marys became a centre for milling, grain-trading, and the manufacture of agriculture-related products. The railway connected the town to the rest of the world and framed the local landscape with its two large trestle bridges on limestone pillars across the waterways.

In the late 1800s as the town prospered, social, educational, and cultural facilities expanded. The established churches built beautiful new places of worship, their steeples visible for kilometers around the countryside. The Opera House opened in 1880. A new Town Hall was built in 1891 and a beautiful Carnegie Library in 1904.

St. Marys today retains its 19th century flavour while offering all the attractions of a modern and friendly small town. In the downtown area, the streets are flanked with century-old buildings. Although the old mills have vanished, a community walkway follows the old millrace along the river. Limestone is no longer quarried for building blocks but it is still an essential to production at the St. Marys Cement Company, a major local industry. A limestone quarry abandoned in 1930 is now a municipal swimming facility.

St. Marys residents are proud of their community's heritage and look confidently to the future.

St. Marys area features 54 holes of golf

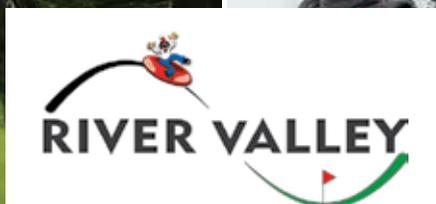

St. Marys and area offers three unique, picturesque and challenging golf courses to intrigue players of all abilities.

The St. Marys Golf & Country Club, founded in 1931, is a par-72 that stretches out to 6,567 yards from the back tees. "Located along the beautiful Thames River, the course prides itself on its spectacular views highlighted by incredible rolling hills, natural creeks and mature trees. The challenging, yet forgiving, course layout welcomes all types of players, from beginners to avid golfers," says Brandon De Groot, Director of Golf Operations. The Club also offers a first-class restaurant, Social Thirty-One, and an inviting patio. Weddings are often held on the picturesque grounds with receptions in one of the facilities' banquet halls.

Science Hill Country Club, opened in 1976, and remains one of Southwestern Ontario's best-kept secrets. Located in the countryside just a few minutes northwest of St. Marys on Road 137, Science Hill is a par-70 course measuring 5,900 yards from the tips. This year, after 35 years, the course is under new ownership (Southside Group of London) and with them have come many changes, including Taps On The Thames restaurant being the latest update to the clubhouse. From lunch, casual dining, live entertainment on the patio, or special occasion bookings, Taps has it all. Call for reservations or come in and enjoy one of the nicest patios in the area.

Just a short drive from St. Marys, River Valley Golf & Country Club is located on a very scenic and undulating parcel of land which is popular for all seasons - in the warm months as a golf course and in the winter months as a tube slide venue. Co-owner/operator David Tkachuk says of the par-65, 4,734 yard course, "The rolling hills and valleys offer beautiful views of the surrounding landscape. The golf course has lots of elevation that will challenge all playing levels." River Valley has a new Grand Hall for banquets, a restaurant, and spacious outdoor deck area.

St. Marys Museum and Archives

The community museum for the Town of St. Marys is located at 177 Church Street South in Cadzow Park. The limestone house was built in 1854 for George Tracy, one of the area's earliest settlers. At the time it was built it was by far the largest home in the small village of log shanties, and almost immediately was nicknamed the "Castle in the Bush." It has been the location of the St. Marys Museum since 1959.

Visitors interested in 19th century construction are welcome to visit at any time throughout the year, not just during special events. They will see exhibits and materials on local history and can also explore the interior of the house itself. Although it has not been restored to any fixed historic period, it contains a great number of original features from 1854: pine flooring, four fireplaces, plaster crown mouldings and other plaster decorations, high ceilings and strange sets of small rooms off larger chambers.

There are two outbuildings beside the main Museum house, which are open seasonally. One is a re-creation of a woodworking shop. The other outbuilding is a barn full of machinery and tools.

It has a collection of implements manufactured by Maxwell's Limited, a company that began operations in St. Marys in 1888. Maxwell's made a full line of farm machinery and smaller pieces such as lawn mowers, churns, washing machines and cider presses. The barn also contains a traditional horse-drawn buggy, a St. Marys-made sleigh and a 1902 Baker Electric car that was owned and operated locally.

This community museum has ten display areas open to the public, all containing artifacts associated with the history of this area. Throughout the year, there is a schedule of changing exhibits and activities, based on the collection. There is always something new to see!

Our spring exhibits include:

- Community Players, Open March 13
- Artists of St. Marys, Open April 18
- Timothy Eaton, Open May 1
- St. Marys Has Pride, Open May 29

Our summer/fall special events and programs:

On July 1, celebrate Canada's 156th birthday at the Canada Day celebration held in Cadzow Park. While enjoying the festivities in the park, venture up to the Museum to enjoy free admission, special exhibits, and family activities.

On Saturday, July 15, join a Museum volunteer for a guided heritage tour of St. Marys, as part of the Stonetown Heritage Festival! These free tours depart hourly from Town Hall. Pre-register at the event information tent.

The St. Marys Museum hosts the annual Melodies at the Museum summer concert series every Wednesday evening in August. From 7 to 8 p.m. a different musical performance takes place outdoors in Cadzow Park. Admission is by donation with all proceeds supporting the St. Marys Museum. Please bring a blanket or lawn chair with you! In inclement weather, the concert will move to the Town Hall auditorium at 175 Queen Street East.

On Saturday, September 23, the St. Marys Museum, along with approximately 15 other heritage buildings in the community, will be opening their doors for Doors Open St. Marys. Enjoy this opportunity to tour interesting buildings not always open to the public, free of charge. The event runs from 10am to 4pm. Stop by the information tent at Town Hall (175 Queen Street East) to pick up your guide for the day.

Back by popular demand, the Museum will once again be offering guided heritage kayak tours in 2023. Enjoy some fresh air and exercise while taking in the heritage sites of St. Marys from a whole new perspective along the Thames River and Trout Creek. Pre-registration is required. Contact the Museum or follow us on Facebook for tour dates and times.

The St. Marys Museum is open year-round Monday to Friday, 9:00 to 4:00. Also open 12:00 to 4:00 on Saturdays and Sundays in June, July and August. Admission is by donation. The archives is open by appointment. Although the Museum's address is 177 Church Street South, it is easiest for visitors to use the parking lot behind the main building, reached by a laneway from Tracy Street on the east side of Cadzow Park. Telephone: 519-284-3556. E-mail: museum@town.stmarys.on.ca or visit the website: www.stmarysmuseum.ca

Events in St. Marys

This is what we've all been waiting for; the return of events, and they're returning bigger and better than ever! From markets to live music, and from seasonal events to a weekend-long festival, St. Marys' calendar is filled with a wide range of events to experience throughout the entire year.

Shopping events, carnival rides, a garden tour, and a live music series are just some of the events that are taking place in St. Marys this Spring and Summer. We will commemorate Canada Day with a parade, live music, artisans, barbecue, and children's activities in the park.

Stonetown Heritage Festival is refreshed this year, with the addition of local arts, workshops, diverse food and beverages and a vendor marketplace. Festival goers will also enjoy two additional festival locations: Milt Dunnell Field, one of St. Marys' most picturesque parks, and the beautiful Riverview Walkway alongside the Thames River.

This year's programming additions to Stonetown Heritage Festival will complement the beloved programming from years past. Heritage bus tours, walking tours, children's activities, unique shopping opportunities and a fireworks show, lit from atop the trestle bridge, will all return to the festival in 2023.

Autumn and Winter bring another set of events that are not-to-be-missed, including Doors Open St. Marys, a holiday shopping experience, and the Santa Claus parade. The annual Winterlights display is an incredible showing of over 100 light displays throughout the park, best enjoyed by foot or car with friends and family.

Our community's spirit is unparalleled, our town is one-of-a-kind and there is no better way to experience it for yourself than during one of our events. If you haven't visited us for an event in St. Marys yet, we can't wait to meet you this year!

To plan your visit, follow us on social media for the latest event information: "Like" @stmarysontario on Facebook or follow @townofstmarys on Instagram and Twitter and check out our full list of events on our events calendar at www.discoverstmarys.ca.

Shopping in St. Marys

Whether you're hunting for the perfect souvenir, gift, treat or necessity, you are certain to find it in our historically charming yet thoroughly modern downtown.

Plentiful free parking will make your browse a breeze: park on-street for three hours or for longer in one of many nearby municipal lots.

Queen Street, St. Marys' main thoroughfare, has long showcased the lion's share of shopping and services. There's a focus on established local makers, whether it's candles at Stone Home Creatives, chocolates at The Chocolate Factory, small-batch coffee beans at Snapping Turtle and fresh-baked donuts at Green Haven Bakery. You'll also find clothing for the entire family, home goods and an array of services.

More permanent local pleasures can be sought at Zenfire Pottery, which also boasts a pottery studio, and at Little Falls Crafters Market. Visit Sun Rayz for a wearable reminder of your visit, via a fully customizable tank, tee or hoodie with a selection of local logos. On weekends, area fine artists host "The Studio" above the Flower Shop and More, a show and sale of original works.

Recently, Water Street south of Queen has undergone a retail renaissance thanks in part to the incredible restoration of a stately limestone block at the intersection's corner. The building now houses The Flour Mill, a destination food shop; Betty's Bookshop, a sweetly tiny yet well-stocked bookstore; and Miss Jones cannabis dispensary. Across the street, Cloud 9 Kids provides parental relief with preloved children's clothing and footwear plus new and nearly new books, toys and gifts.

Keeping with the preloved theme, treasure hunters will delight in Pass It On and the local Salvation Army further down Water Street. Head back to Queen Street to continue your preloved journey at Eclectic Treasures. Just north of Queen, bargain hunters will enjoy the thrill of the chase at Jacobs Liquidation.

Dotted throughout the downtown are a variety of cafes for a quick treat or light meal. Looking for something more substantial? The chef-driven TuttCo on Queen Street serves creatively delicious lunch and supper with a focus on sustainability while O'Leary's Creamery offers pub and Mexican fare with a scenic patio. New to Water Street is Gilly's Pubhouse, a family-friendly eatery with extended hours.

St. Marys Community Players

St. Marys Community Players (SMCP) is truly a 'community' theatre. Talented, dedicated volunteers from the area pool their skills to present top quality productions twice a year at the historic Town Hall Theatre in downtown St. Marys.

SMCP has been entertaining audiences with crowd-pleasing comedies, mysteries, and musicals since 1974. Each season offers a spring and a fall production in an intimate space that brings audiences up close to the performers.

As a member of the Western Ontario Drama League (WODL), SMCP has developed into one of the premier amateur theatre groups in Southwestern Ontario. This award-winning community theatre enriches, enlivens, and engages the community in each production they stage.

Their 2023 season opens in April with a quirky spy story, The 39 Steps, set in 1935 Britain. This adventure comedy is theatre at its best. An absurdly delightful journey that can only be brought to life on stage. A cast of six actors plays over 150 characters in this fast-paced tale.

Opening Night, a comedy by Norm Foster, is the story of an unusual evening at the theatre. This hysterically funny "backstage" play is zany, witty, and bright and hits the Town Hall Theatre stage in October.

There are a ton of volunteer opportunities on and offstage to participate in the production of SMCP shows. Some opportunities mean a big commitment, but there are other opportunities which would be just a taste.

And previous theatre experience is not a requirement. "Good heavens, no!" says SMCP Board Director, Gretchen Rozek. "SMCP loves working with folks who are new to all this. We have a ton of talent in this town. Theatre is a magical place, and we love sharing that magic with everyone regardless of previous experience. We are a very supportive, inclusive team, so newbies feel part of the SMCP family right from the start."

In 2024, SMCP will celebrate 50 years on the stage! Their 50th season will look a bit different than past years as the Town Hall will be under renovations and closed to the public. But they will be producing special shows and celebration events to keep audiences entertained and engaged.

Watch their website and social media for updates, promotions, and when tickets go on sale. A great night of entertainment awaits!

Stay connected with SMCP on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter or visit www.stmaryscommunityplayers.ca

This could be your commute

Andrea Macko

Of the many scenic views in St. Marys, the panorama offered by the Grand Trunk Trestle is perhaps the most inspiring. Stand at the trestle's centre, regardless of the season, and take in a full sweep of St. Marys' charming skyline of spires, stonework and trees, contrasted with the ever-changing shades of the Thames River and Trout Creek.

The eyes of a visitor are quickly besotted by this stunning view and the calm it brings. The mind of the visitor, luxuriating in the view and the sense of leisure that only travel brings, muses, "I could live here."

It's true; you could live here in St. Marys. Close to so much yet removed from the hustle and bustle, this small town could offer you a lifestyle you never imagined.

Your commute could consist of a leisurely walk along one of our scenic trails, a quick drive through town or a cruise through the countryside to your urban centre of choice. If you're a telecommuter, town-wide fibre optic internet makes connecting a cinch. With excellent shops, services, healthcare and schools all within town limits, the after-work scramble becomes non-existent. You could even complete all those errands on your lunch break.

Your evenings and weekends could be composed of an incredible array of recreation options. You could get social with a team or group sport or you could follow an individual pursuit like running, cycling, paddling, hiking or swimming. And any youngsters you have could do the same.

You could also get creative, were you to live here. Join community theatre or one of many drop-in artistic and crafting classes for a hands-on endeavour, or peruse one of our many galleries and our museum.

You could feel like part of a community if you called St. Marys home. You could join a service or social club to improve your new hometown, and have incredible access to a truly local government, housed in a town hall that's often mistaken for a castle. You could partake in activities and events that bring out the full social strata of this town, often in support of a local cause or free thanks to community support.

It's very true, you could live here.
